

Why are my seeds coated?

Some seed companies apply a colorful shell around the seeds to help them germinate and to help you see them when planting!

The coating is an all-natural mix of clay, perlite and FDA approved food coloring.

